Point to Ponder: “Preach the faith always. If necessary, use words.” - St. Francis

I once heard of a “good Catholic family” that raised six children. Dad left for work one hour early each morning so that he could attend daily Mass before beginning his work day. Mom stayed home and fed the children breakfast and got them off to school. None of the children knew why Dad left when he did until the oldest son became a father and decided to attend daily Mass to ask God’s blessing for his new family. He was surprised when he walked into the church and saw his dad sitting in the front pew waiting for Mass to begin.

If we want to pass our Catholic faith on to our children we need to be sure we are practicing our faith and that our children know what we are doing and why we believe it is important to do that.
